

CITY NEWS.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Don't you know your relatives and friends who formerly lived in Kansas City who enjoy the Sun for a present better than anything else you could send them?

Checkers have become most popular during the past week. Our Kansas City players have been able to beat those from all parts of the country.

During the Christmas week a large number of dinner parties were served in the cafeteria, testifying to the excellence of the service and cuisine. Persons wishing to arrange such affairs would do well to call the secretary at least 24 hours in advance.

The Christmas tree was a real treat to the members of the boys' department. Many surprises came to the large number of boys present, not the least of which were the year's membership cards received by some.

There will be open house on New Year's day from 3 to 9 p. m. Physical exhibitions and swimming contests will be given to which the public, both men and women, are invited. The following is the program:

Special Gymnastic Exhibition—Business and professional men's class. Volley Ball—Reds vs. Blues. Marching and Fancy Drills—High school squad. Basketball—Picked teams from the High school. Swimming Exhibition and Fancy Diving—High School Aquatic Club.

Among the out of town visitors who stopped in the building this week, taking advantage of the comfortable rooms and cafeteria service were: Mr. Blyden Yates of Iowa University, Jack Johnson of Topeka, J. S. Coleman of Des Moines, Ia.; Frank Barbee and Wm. Maxwell, Kansas University.

ALLEN CHAPEL NOTES.

The services at Allen chapel at 3 o'clock Christmas morning were extremely impressive and in spite of the thermometer registering four degrees below zero, more than 1,000 persons attended these services. The musical numbers were exceedingly good and Miss Woodson, Mrs. Glass and Miss Mosely acquitted themselves creditably as soloists, while Dr. Thomas delivered a sermon befitting the occasion and the day. On Sunday the services were attended by a large number of strangers in the city and at night the Christmas program was repeated to an unusually large audience. Watch meeting services will be held Thursday night and the revival will be conducted by Rev. J. P. Howard.

EBENEZER A. M. E. CHURCH.

Quarterly meeting was held last Sunday at our church and in spite of the disagreeable weather all the services were largely attended. Dr. Peck preached able sermons both morning and evening and splendid music was rendered by the choir under the leadership of Prof. F. J. Work. The congregation taxed the large auditorium to its capacity at the communion services at 3 o'clock the sermon being delivered by Rev. T. A. Wilson of St. John's church. More than 20 ministers were in attendance at this service. On Thursday night Dr. Winston the noted pulpit orator will open the revival for Dr. Williams which all expect to be a record breaker.

Mrs. Ella Neff, 1714 East Eighteenth street, left the 24th to spend Christmas in Sweet Springs and Marshall, Mo. Mrs. Neff was accompanied by her nephews, Messrs. Lester Henderson and Sterling Green. They will return New Year's day.

FIFTY CENTS PER PLATE

Attention! Every member and his wife, or her husband. You are urged to be present at the call meeting at the Y. M. C. A., 8:00 p. m., Thursday, January 7, 1915, to make arrangements for this first annual banquet.

G. W. K. Love, General Chairman.

C. H. Calloway, Chairman of Program and Ticket Committee.

Mrs. Myrtle F. Todd, Chairman of Banquet Committee.

W. H. Dawley, Jr., and Mrs. Ida Wood, Chairmen of the Publicity Committee.

Miss Anna H. Jones, Pres.

Mrs. Lena DeFrantz, Sec.

Mrs. Fannie B. Peck, Treasurer.

Prof. J. A. Endicott of the St. Joseph High school, Rev. J. J. Sayles, Ellis, Kas.; Mr. Walt Harris, D. H. Chapelle, Wilberforce, Ohio; J. C. Banks, Lincoln Institute, Mo.; C. Owens, Topeka, Kas.; Dr. T. B. Reddick, St. Louis; A. L. Wright of Oklahoma, J. W. Baldwin, Minneapolis, and G. W. Rose, St. Louis.

The meetings for the past two Sundays have been most interesting and inspiring. Dr. H. T. Keeling spoke Sunday, the 20th. His address was thoughtful and instructive. On the 27th the addresses were delivered by Messrs. L. A. Knox and W. G. Moseley. Prof. J. E. Jones of George R. Smith college not only inspired the men with song but also delivered a short, stirring talk. Mrs. N. C. Crews, in his usual impressive manner, aroused the members to militant spiritual service. Let all men be present the first Sunday in the year.
